

Director of Education

Are you seeking a challenge? Can you play a pivotal role in delivering educational excellence in schools powered by a distinctive Christian ethos? If so, then we would welcome an application from you for the post of Liverpool Archdiocesan Director of Education.

The Archdiocese is seeking to recruit a Director of Education, who, under the governance of the Trustees, the oversight of the Episcopal Vicar for Education, and the management of the Chief Operating Officer will lead on the development and implementation of strategic plans for education (and other relevant areas), ensure our schools receive excellent support, manage a committed and professional Education Department, and contribute to the wider mission of the Church.

- The role is full time, 35 hours per week (Monday – Friday, 9.00am-5.00pm), with the ability to work flexibly as per the needs of the business.
- We are offering a competitive salary and pension package with 38 days holiday plus a range of other benefits.
- This post is subject to an enhanced DBS check.
- A full information pack regarding this role and details of how to apply are available on our website at www.liverpoolcatholic.org.uk/jobs.

Closing date: 12 noon on Tuesday 30 March 2021.
Interviews to be held Wednesday 14 and Thursday 15 April 2021.

St Beuno's Conference 2021 NOW ONLINE

Cry of the Earth, Cry of the Poor Ignatian Spirituality and Our Common Home

Thurs 25th March (evening) –
Sat 27th March (ends afternoon)

Confirmed Speakers include:

- Dr Carmody Grey – Assistant Professor of Catholic Theology, University of Durham
- Dr Séverine Deneulin – Senior Lecturer in International Development, University of Bath & Director of International Development, Laudato Si' Research Institute, Campion Hall, University of Oxford
- Prof Peter Scott – Professor of Applied Theology, University of Manchester
- Rev Dr Liz Hoare – Tutor in spiritual formation & Dean for Women at Wycliffe Hall, University of Oxford

In a time of ecological crisis, the question of how to respond to the cry of the earth and the cry of its most vulnerable peoples confronts us all with its urgency. This joint conference between St. Beuno's Jesuit Spirituality Centre, Campion Hall, University of Oxford, and its new Laudato Si' Research Institute, seeks to deepen our own ecological conversion, asking:

- How can Ignatian spiritual practices and ecological theological reflection inspire, guide, and sustain 'care for our Common Home'?
- How might Ignatian spirituality and ecotheological reflection inform each other?

The conference includes talks by practitioners of Ignatian Spirituality and theologians working at the interface of integral ecology and practice. Following these talks, participants will engage the day's topics through discussions, workshops, personal reflection, and guided meditations.

Conference fee - £75
