

Head of Media and Communications

JESUITS
IN BRITAIN

Full time
Location in Central London
(with some travel around the UK)
Hybrid working policy in operation

The Society of Jesus in Britain, better known as the Jesuits, is looking for a Head of Media and Communications to work closely with the Provincial (leader) of the Jesuits in Britain from its headquarters in Mayfair, central London.

Can you help the British arm of the Catholic Church's largest religious Order tell its story and engage with new audiences? Do you have an eye for sharp copy and images, experience of writing for varied audiences, the confidence to place stories with news outlets, and an appreciation of spiritual life? The new Head of Media & Communications will lead a team which develops digital, print and audio materials (including a podcast) for use by a wide range of people across the country, including in schools, prisons, parishes and online. The successful applicant will also be responsible for responding to reputational issues, so an ability to handle confidential issues sensitively is important.

Please look at our website:
www.jesuit.org.uk/news/tell-our-story for a full job and person specification and how to apply for this role.

Applications by 1st March 2024, please

International Women's day webinar: How inspiring women have helped changed the world

Join us for this uplifting webinar as we talk to a panel of three inspirational women and ask them which woman or female saint has inspired them in their lifetime and why.

Joining us for this webinar will be:

Shelagh Fogarty, a radio presenter, journalist and a former television presenter. She presents the afternoon programme on LBC, having previously co-hosted the BBC Radio 5 Live breakfast show with Nicky Campbell.

Imelda Poole, is a member of the Institute of the Blessed Virgin Mary (Mary Ward) congregation and serves as president of Mary Ward Loreto Foundation in Albania.

Lynda Dearlove, serves on the central leadership team of the Institute of Our Lady of Mercy. She was the founder and until recently the CEO of women@thewell. She is Secretary General of the International Coalition for the Abolition of Prostitution and a trustee of the ARISE Foundation.

Friday 8 March 2024, 6pm – 7pm GMT
